

Nature Photography

How to Tell a Better Story

April 27, 2013

9AM-12 PM

Chino Hills State Park's Discovery Center

Discover the stories in nature and capture them in your photographs.

- Learn how to use space, light, and time to take memorable photos.
- Watch step-by-step sequences that show how to create exceptional compositions.
- Compare different situations shown in before and after photos.
- Gain easy, practical techniques that you can use now.

$40.00

PAY AT THE DOOR

Free Parking

Fundraiser to support the
Chino Hills State Park Interpretive Association

Be sure to bring pen and paper for note taking.

Chino Hills State Park Discovery Center
4500 Carbon Canyon Road, Brea

RSVP to claire@schlotterbeck.net

Steve Kaye has been taking photos since 1965. He now works (or plays) as a nature photographer showing people the unexpected beauty in nature. In earlier careers, he has worked as an engineer, professional speaker, meeting facilitator, author, and poet. He has published four books, over 1,300 articles plus blogs, and five collections of poetry.

www.stevekayephoto.com

Fine Art Photos - <http://steve-kaye.artistwebsites.com>

<http://www.squidoo.com/steve-kayes-lenses>